DR6000 application software for drinking water analysis

Product #:   LZV935

AED Price: Contact Hach

The drinking water analysis software is a compilation of all spectrophotometric applications which are relevant for drinking water analysis.

This software allows for individual parameters to be executed without reagent addition through self absorption at various wavelengths. Nitrate (self-absorption), Organic load (SAC), Coloration / organic load (SAC).